Logel Homes Covid-19 Protocols

The health and safety of our employees, trade partners, homebuyers and homeowners has always been our top priority. We know today, more than ever, just how important home is. Over the past few months, our team has quickly adjusted to evolving business and construction practices, accommodating homebuyers virtually and finding ways to safely continue helping our customers close on their much-anticipated new homes.

To contribute to social distancing that has been called for by public health officials, our sales centers and show suites will be available for viewing by appointment (contact a sales manager to set one up).

Here are some of the additional steps we are taking to protect everyone in this ever-evolving situation:

- We are diligently following guidance and best practices from AHS, the Government of Alberta, and the Government of Canada
- We have implemented enhanced cleaning protocols and increased frequency in all our sales centers/show suites
- We ask all customers that if they have recently returned from travel, or are exhibiting any flu like symptoms, they refrain from setting up an appointment
- To follow 'social distancing' recommendations, the number of visitors in our sales centres/show suites will be limited
- Our employees have been asked to work from home (where possible), and to stay home from work if they are showing any signs of illness – no doctors note needed
- Our valued trade partners are expected to comply with proper social distancing and hygiene measures as we build your home

Please do not hesitate to reach out should you find yourself needing anything. Even in difficult times, the Logel Homes' team is here to support. Thanks for your understanding.
